I want talk to you about the subjects that students like the most, and the subjects they like the least. We asked the boys and girls in our class the question “What is your favorite class?” The girls in the class liked English the most. The boys in the class liked math and science the most. The same number of boys liked math and science, but the girls liked math a little better than science. For the girls, Japanese was their second favorite subject. The boys didn’t like Japanese that much. In fact, they liked Japanese as much as they liked social studies. For the girls, social studies was the least favorite subject. Only two girls liked social studies.
