次の英文を読んで、あとの問いに答えなさい。

Albert Einstein is ① () of () () famous scientists of all time. (A) his *image and his work have been an *inspiration to young scientists all over the world even after he died in 1955. But many of you may not know how he became a successful scientist.

He was born as the first child of a couple ② (name) Hermann and Pauline on March 14, 1879 in the city of *Ulm, Germany. His father was an electrical engineer and his mother was a musician. They (B) were intelligent but had little interest in science.

Albert was different ③ () other children in many ways. ④ He didn't say his first words () he was two years old. His parents worried that he *might never learn to speak. Even when he was older, he *had trouble answering a question. He didn't speak clearly until he was twelve, so ⑤ his teachers thought he was a slow learner. When Albert became an adult, he said, "I *rarely think in words at all. A thought comes, and I may try to express it in words *afterward."

When he was a young child, he didn't like to play sports or games like other boys. He liked to think by himself, especially about music and science. He loved classical music and learned to play the violin when he was very young. Also, early in his childhood, he was interested ⑥ () science and math. When ⑦ (gave / a watch / his father / him) with a *magnetic compass, all his attention went to the compass. He *was fascinated by how its *needle always pointed to the north. For hours at a time he *was never tired of playing the violin or ⑧ (watch) the compass. Although he was better at science, ⑨ music helped him a lot to become a scientist. When he had to think of a question and couldn't answer it in his research, he listened to or played *Mozart. Sometimes he ⑩ (come) up with the answer ⑪ while he was doing so.
