

Virtual Art Galleries

These days, more and more art galleries have started to offer virtual tours. As a result, people can enjoy fine art without visiting galleries. If you want to see a famous painting in Paris, you don't have to get a passport or book a flight. All you have to do is to connect to the Internet, search for galleries that you want to visit, and click. By doing so, you can see wonderful fine art on your computer screen!
